February 22, 2008 – New on-line resource offers posts over 1,000 brand new physician job openings. MyJobPulse.com, a new physician only job portal, posts more than one thousand new job opportunities. All jobs listed have been posted within the past 6 weeks. This is particularly exciting for many job seeking physicians and surgeons because similar physician job portals have old and outdated jobs serving as filler. Doctors do not want to waste time browsing outdated, filled, or old opportunities. Physicians and surgeons can now turn to MyJobPulse to search for and find current physician job opportunities from any specialty. This new website went live last month, and physician job openings can be searched free of charge.

Currently, there is a tremendous amount of turnover in the physician and surgeon job market. MyJobPulse.com provides a resource for both physicians to search listed job opportunities, and employers to post physician openings. This is an exciting and long awaited service dedicated solely to physicians and surgeons. Job seeking physicians should have a reliable, updated, and easy to use resource for physician job listings. MyJobPulse.com allows doctors to search our exclusive physician database containing solely physician and surgeon job opportunities.
